AN APPEAL FOR POOR CHILDREN.

The Wilson Industrial School, the oldest institution of the kind in the city, is compelled to make an earnest appeal to its friends for money and provisions to support it through the approaching cold weather. Fall work has begun with the children crowding to their classes. The "Fresh Air Fund" and private subscriptions have given them a good time during the past sammer, but now that they have returned they need to be provided for. All contributions in clothing and supplies may be sent to Miss Hundingtor No. 125 St. Mark's-place, and donations in money to the treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Smith, No. 25 West Eigh centh-st.

A young man about twenty-five years of age, calling minself Preston Marshall and claiming to have come from Louisville, Ky., is now engaged in making his living in this city by obtaining small sums of money under false pretences. He is of medium height and slight build, and wears a cap. The chief points of his story are: He was a reporter (or printer) in Louisville, but came East because of lamily troubles, and after fruitless efforts to procure work is now entirely without money. He pretends to be anxious to make his way to Philadelphia or Baltimore (where he claims to have relatives among the Bowies), and hints that he only wants assistance over night. He is entitled to no sympathy, and deserves to be handed over to the police.

About half-past 8 o'clock on Saturday evening Alderman Patrick Keenan and ex-Senator Seebacher drove up to the Harlem prison to endeavor to secure Peck's rel-ase. They were unable to provide suitable bail, but on their agreeing to have acceptable sureties in court in the morning, Justice Otterbourg permitted Peck to be released on parole, Yesterday morning Ferdinand Meyer, of No. 170 East Ninety-Jourth-st., was accepted as Peck's surety in $500. He had entered the same way, using a ladder which he had found in the cellar. Mr. Blanchard had a good view of the man, and his wife thought from his description that the burglar was a tunsmith who had worked at the house and knew where the ladder was kept. The tinsmith, William Hoover, was arrested by Detective McManus and was at once identified by Mr. Blanchard as the burglar. The prisoner asserts his innocence.

Long Island City.—The delegates of the De Bevoise Democracy, elected at the primaries on Saturday night to the County Convention, to be held at Jamaica on Saturday, are everwhelmingly in favor of City Clerk Moran for Sherifl. THE DOINGS OF LABORING-MEN.

THE DOINGS OF LABORING-MEN.

The Central Labor Union held its regular weekly meeting in Science Hall, in Eighth-st., yesterday afterneon. John Davitt, of the House-Painters' Union, occupied the chair, and with difficulty preserved order among the crowd of delegates and visitors that filled the room. Motions and countermotions were made in quick succession, and wrangle succeeded wrangle for nearly three hours. A letter from the XIVth Assembly District was read, informing the union that a candidate had been nominated by property-owners of the district against Louis Shelibach, but promising victory to the latter. It was then moved that delegates be instructed to report to their respective unious that the Central Labor Union favors a project to establish a labor paper in English and asks the different unions to take stock in it. After a protracted discussion the motion was carried. This was followed by a motion on the part of Robert Blissert to the effect that a public reception be tendered to Henry George on his return to America. Another delegate suggested that the reception should be followed by a lecture, the proceeds of which should be presented to Mr. George, to enable him to build a house. The two propositions were discussed at great length. A delegate objected to being interrupted by visitors, as he found the interruptions of delegates more than enough to contend with. One delegates more than enough to contend with. One delegates more than enough to contend with. One delegates made the impression that it owned Henry George, Finally, however, the motion to tender Mr. George, public reception was carried, and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. The matter of the lecture was positioned for further discussion.

Miccings of journeymen tailors were held yesterday in Hassel's Hotel, No. 475 Pearl-st.; at No. 568 Milli-ave., and at No. 194 Third-ave., for the purpose of forming branches of the Tailors' Union. A schedule price for labor is to be adopted.

Duntze, of the Atlas Line steamship Ailsa, which arrived yesterday from Central American and West India ports, reported that on September 23, signals of distress were sighted flying from the Spanish steamer Puerto Rico. She encountered a terrific hur icane on September 10, in the Gulf of Mexico, which lasted twenty-four hours, and tore away several sails from their fastenings. Again, on September 24, in the Gulf stream, she encountered a northeast gaie, with high running seas that covered her at times. She also had some of her sails blown away and otherstorn. Joseph B. Barnes, the steward, died on October 6 of heart disease, and was burned at sea.

DENOUNCED FROM THE PULPIT.

The paster of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Hunter's Point, the Rev. W. H. Gilhes, preached a sermon yesterday morning upon the condition of affairs in Long Island City. He bitterly denounced the city officials for their negligence in allowing the pool-tooms and grambling dens to exist at Hunter's Point used to bear an unenviable reputation and we changed its name to Long Island City, but now even that name stinks in the nostrils of every law-abiding citizen throughout our land." The speaker expressed himself as being pleased that Mayor De Bevoise had by his action in removing Police Commissioner McGarry and his written comment to Captain Woods not to obey the orders of the Police Board given the citizens an opportunity to make an application to the Grand Jury to procure his indictment.
